DONATIONS

The club and individual donations allowed the group to donate $3000 to the Casa de la Luz Foundation, whose mission is to provide superior care to patients and their loved ones, so that they may complete their mission on this earth in comfort, dignity, and harmony.

The club also donated $302 to the ACBL Junior Fund

We have started a new program to recognize members attaining their Life Master. TCBC will donate $300 in honor of all new Life Masters. Jeanne McCleery was our first member to be recognized and she chose to match our donation. Jeanne dearly loves her cat so she chose Hermitage Cat Shelter where Bob and Beth Griffin volunteer a lot of their time.

A Warning against fraud from ACBL

An increasing number of companies are falling victim to wire transfer scams, and according to Price Waterhouse Coopers, it is costing victims more than $1 billion in just the last 18 months. Scammers are successfully targeting companies with an email scam that leads to wire transfer fraud. Here are some ways in which this is being done.

Spoofed email to an employee allegedly from the CEO or CFO asking for an emergency wire transfer.

Spoofed email to an employee allegedly from the CEO or CFO citing a "confidential deal" and asking the employee to contact an outside "attorney" for further instructions.

Whatever the method, employees—especially those who have the authority to request, approve, or execute wire transfers—need to be on guard. The ACBL corporate office and some of our Units have been targeted by this type of scam. The scammers have access to lots of information and are capable of making their requests seem very legitimate.

One recent attempt at headquarters came from an email sent to our CFO which appeared to have come from our CEO. (The perpetrators had spoofed the email address of the CEO). The email noted that CEO was enjoying his vacation in a particular location and apologized for the inconvenience of the emergency wire request. The perpetrators had known that the CEO was out of the office and where he was. Only because we have strong financial operational controls at headquarters, which require a request for wire transfer to be done verbally and not through email, prevented this transaction from occurring. The CFO knew not to send a wire without first confirming on the phone that the request was real.

I am sharing this with you today so that you can implement similar financial controls in your Units and Districts to protect your organizations from this type of fraud.

Best Regards,
Mitch

I am sure all of you know that any e-mail you receive from me requesting funds initiation is false and I appreciate those who have brought the false e-mails to my attention. I am not sending them. If you receive an e-mail from Jared or any board member that seems off, it probably is. Do not respond. Call or text to confirm.

BRIDGE BITES #90

RISK AND REWARD

Brian Gunnell

♠ A ♥ Q63 ♦ AQJ96 ♣ K863	Both Vulnerable South West North East 1♦ Pass 1♥ Pass 2♣ Pass 2NT Pass 3NT Pass Pass Pass
Dummy West East Declarer	In a team game or a money game, making the contract is all-important, and overtricks are merely a secondary consideration. But, in duplicate bridge, the method of scoring rewards overtricks and, as we'll see, that can influence the play of the hand.
♠ K654 ♥ A542 ♦ 832 ♣ A5

First, try this 3NT in a team game, and focus entirely on making the contract. West leads ♠J, won in Dummy. What's the simple route to 9 tricks?

You can see that four Diamond tricks will suffice to make the contract and, as a safety play against East having the singleton King, you might cash the ♦A first. That doesn't produce the King so you now lead the ♦Q from Dummy, and when the dust clears, you have 9 tricks. Routine stuff!

However, playing the same contract in a duplicate game, you are more likely to try for an overtrick or two and, under the right circumstances, might even risk his contract in the process. As before, West leads the ♠J, won in Dummy. Do you plunk down the ♦A, as before?

No, you don't! In your quest for overtricks you say "Phooey!" to that safety play, and will try for five Diamond tricks. So, you cross to the ♣A and finesse the ♦Q, East playing the Ten on that trick. Now, you can see 10 easy tricks in your future. You cross to the ♥A, cash the ♠K (otherwise it will be stranded), and run the ♦8, allowing you to pick up West's ♦K754. Here is the full deal:

♠ A ♥ Q63 ♦ AQJ96 ♣ K863	Dummy West East Declarer	♠ Q73 ♥ JT7 ♦ KT7 ♣ J972
♠ JT982 ♥ K98 ♦ 54 ♣ QT4
♠ K654 ♥ A542 ♦ 832 ♣ A5

But it turns out that East is a very slippery fellow! Your finesse loses to East's King, the defense runs the Spades, and it's down one in a cold contract!

Your play was disastrous but, at duplicate scoring, quite reasonable. If you'd made your overtrick you would have been rewarded with a good score. Too bad for you that the ♦K was offside, and East was tricky enough to duck the first Diamond, and Spades broke 5-3. It took three pieces of bad luck to bring about your downfall, so the risk/reward ratio was definitely in your favor. And, if a similar hand comes up in the future, we hope that you'll play it the same way. In the long run you will come out ahead!
